

Dear Faculty and Staff,

In order to create a campus free of sexual misconduct, harassment, and discrimination of any kind, all Fairfield University campus and community members must work together to prevent incidents of sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking and support those affected. By engaging the entire community in prevention efforts and in challenging norms and behaviors that tolerate gender based violence we can live our mission as people for others and ensure a healthy and safe campus culture for all.

With its tight community, close relationships and small classes, faculty and staff are an essential part of why students choose Fairfield University. This gives faculty and staff the unique opportunity to care for our students and have a profound impact on them. Your relationships are integral to the Fairfield University experience. Through continual interaction, you are able to see changes in student behavior; it is important that you are equipped with the knowledge and know-how to best support your students in times when they need it most.

Prevention at Fairfield U: <https://www.bigmarker.com/the-center-for-family-justice/Faculty-Violence-Prevention-Fairfield-University-A>

Trauma-Informed Approaches at Fairfield U: <https://www.bigmarker.com/the-center-for-family-justice/Staff-Faculty-Violence-Prevention-at-Fairfield-University-B>